As part of activities lined up to mark the beginning of the New Legal Year in Edo State, the Honourable Chief Judge of the State, Honourable Justice Daniel Lyobosa Okungbowa paid a visit to Iwinosa Orphanage Home in Benin City.

This is in furtherance of his agenda to ensure that the less privileged in the state is carried along in the society.

Delivering his speech during the visit, Honourable Justice Okungbowa explained that his journey through life has wholly enjoyed God's grace and favour and for this, he is eternally grateful to Almighty God, in appreciation he has always made it a point of duty to give back to the less privileged in the society in whatever capacity he can.

He maintained that he has and will always put the children in the home in his prayers as there is nothing God cannot do to change the fortunes of anyone for the better.

He admonished the management of the home to always be prayerful and steadfast in God with the belief that the children they are helping to groom will become great persons in life.

He also expressed joy and thanks to the management for ensuring that the children are well kept and in good health.

The proprietor of the orphanage home, Madam Iwinosa expressed joy and thanks to the Chief Judge for the visitation, she appreciated him for having decided to choose Iwinosa Orphanage Home out of all other orphanages in the state to extend his kind gesture to.

She prayed for God's guidance, wisdom and longevity for the Chief Judge as he continues to pilot the affairs of Edo State Judiciary.

High point was the presentation of gift items and cash donation to the management of the orphanage home.

Among the gift items were tissue papers, cartons of Noodles, gallons of oil, bags of rice and other food items.

Earlier, the Chief Judge led other Judges and Staff of Edo State Judiciary on a Fitness Walk around Benin City.
